GOVERNOR MARVIN'S PROCLAMATION

SLAVERY IN BRAZIL.

AFFAIRS IN SAVANNAH.

GOVERNOR MARVIN'S PROCLAMATION.

New York, August 14.—Governor Marvin, of Florida, issued his proclamation to the people of that State on the 14th, announcing his appointment by the President, and informing them of the necessary steps to be taken to restore civil government.

The day for the election of delegates to a Convention, and for the assembling of the same, are not decided upon, but they will be named as soon as proper time shall have been given for the people to take the oath of allegiance, and for the necessary preliminaries, as has been done by all the other Provisional Governors.

Mr. Marvin informs the citizens, that slavery is dead and cannot be resurrected, but he does not, like some of his colleagues, reappoint the local officers who officiated under rebel rule, although the old county incumbents are authorized to still act in matters pertaining to the administration of estates, the recording of deeds and such indispensable business, until the regular officers can be appointed.

The Governor leaves to the military to preserve order and take cognizance of its breaches throughout the State, or the civil officers of a local State or Territory, are authorized to administer the allegiance oath.

SAVANNAH AFFAIRS.

New York, August 14.—The Herald's Savannah correspondent says: The low state of the present in the Savannah river is interesting seriously with the transportation of market, and has rendered the river additionally anxious for the early completion of the Georgia Central Railroad, and the work on it is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, as also on the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad running westward from Savannah.

General Brannon has given orders for the Pulaski House to be restored to its original proprietor.

Major Wiltberger, who was an officer in the rebel army, and J. D. Howell, a brother-in-law of Jeff Davis, who, as previously stated, was arrested for drunken and disorderly conduct and offering insulting and derogatory language in the Pulaski House, have been sentenced to a fine of $500 and six months' imprisonment, and subsequently to be sent out of the District. Another rebel who participated with Howell in his criminal demonstrations has been imprisoned in the city guard-house.

Brazil Moving for the Extinction of Slavery.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—Encouraged by the progress of events in different parts of the world, and especially the abolition of slavery throughout nearly the whole of the United States, and the prospect of a total prohibition of it in this country by a Constitutional Amendment, the friends of emancipation in Brazil are at work in efforts looking to its extinction in that Empire.

Already propositions for a partial emancipation there, as well as by an article introduced in the Brazilian Senate, with a good prospect of becoming legal enactments. If successful in these measures, the advocates of freedom continue their efforts for further concessions in the matter, and hope before many years they will be able to effect the complete abolition of slavery in their country.

Later from Mexico.

New York, August 14.—Advices have been received from the city of Chihuahua, Mexico, to the effect of June.

Everything was then progressing well with the government of President Juarez, and accounts were daily being received of the uprising of the people everywhere throughout the Republic against the Empire.

The termination of our civil war and the prospect of aid from the United States had created universal confidence in the early triumph of the patriots over the invaders.

President Juarez was expecting soon to consummate important arrangements with the United States.

The New York Defalcation.

New York, August 14.—The defalcation of the National Bank developments in connection with the Bank developments, are constantly being made. It appears that Mrs. Brown was not the only woman who received the favors of Jenkins. In the possession of one of the most famous hoarding houses on Crosby street, has been found a five cent diamond ring, worth $500, which the girl says was given her by the alleged defaulter teller. She also says that he frequently presented her with large sums of money, at one time he gave her $700.

SARSON.—The glory of a woman, like the strength of Sampson, lays very much in her luxuriant hair. To preserve this in all its glory, requires care, and the use of a carefully prepared and scientific compound vegeta-

It has no deleterious ingredients—it refreshes, strengthens and preserves the flowing tresses, and cannot be surpassed as an innocent and valuable preparation. The
